Period of Recognition: 2010 - 2014

Recognition by the Tasmanian Qualifications Authority means that a qualification issued by a formal learning provider may be listed on the Qualifications Certificate and contribute to the participation and achievement standard of the Tasmanian Certificate of Education.

1 A measure of the complexity of a course.
See <http://www.tqa.tas.gov.au/2720> for further information

2 The size of a course refers to the period of time the majority of student would take to complete the required learning. The TQA assigns a size value to TQA accredited courses, TQA recognised courses, and VET certificates and units of competency. One size rating is assigned per 10 hours of design time. Successful completion of a course/gaining the qualification gains credit points equal to the size value of the course. Credit points are only allocated if a student achieves at least the required standard in a course/gains the qualification. Credit points contribute to the participation and achievement standard of the Tasmanian Certificate of Education.

3 The TQA assigns a robustness rating to TQA accredited courses, TQA recognised courses, and VET certificates and units of competency. A five level system is used to reflect the degree of reliability and validity of results issued in a course. Robustness level 1 is the lowest, level 5 the highest. Courses must have a robustness level of 2 or higher in order to contribute to a student's participation and achievement standard of the Tasmanian Certificate of Education.
